UK planes 'attacked Yemen'

Amnesty International says war planes supplied by the UK to Saudi Arabia are "extremely likely" to have been used in attacks on civilians in Yemen. "Our report points to the Saudis using UK-supplied and UK-maintained arms in secret attacks that have left scores of Yemeni civilians dead," Amnesty's Arms Program Director Oliver Sprague said on Tuesday. "The government needs to announce a thorough investigation to get to the bottom of this, reporting the findings back to Parliament," he added, demanding "all current and future UK supplies of arms to Saudi Arabia should be suspended pending the results of this investigation." The UK must ensure that the jet fighters "did not facilitate violations of international humanitarian law, including possible war crimes, by the Saudi Arabian air force," the human rights groups said. Amnesty's report found it was ...
